SECTION 1: INTRODUCTION

1.1 About the Endeavour Awards

The Endeavour Awards is the Australian Government's internationally competitive, merit-based scholarship program providing opportunities for citizens of the Asia-Pacific, Middle East, Europe and Americas to undertake study, research and professional development in Australia. Awards are also available for Australians to undertake study, research and professional development abroad.

The Endeavour Awards aim to:

- Develop on-going educational, research and professional linkages between individuals, organisations and countries;
- Provide opportunities for high achieving individuals from Australia and overseas to increase their skills and enhance their global awareness;
- Contribute to Australia's position as a high quality education and training provider, and a leader in research and innovation; and
- Increase the productivity of Australians through an international study, research or professional development experience.

The Endeavour Awards are a part of the Australia Awards initiative which was announced by the Government in November 2009. The Australia Awards have been established to maximise the benefit to Australia of its extensive scholarship programs, and to support enduring ties between Australia and our neighbours.

The Australia Awards will bring together the international development awards administered by the Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) and the Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations' (DEEWR) Endeavour Awards under a single recognisable brand. The Australia Awards are being progressively phased in commencing in 2010. Further information is available at www.AustraliaAwards.gov.au.

1.2 Purpose of these Guidelines

These Guidelines provide information for applicants wishing to apply for an Endeavour Award.

These Guidelines will aid you in preparing your application. You should read them in full to ensure that you meet the eligibility requirements for your selection Award/s.

You must also ensure that you fully address all the selection criteria for the Award you are applying for and submit your application and correct supporting documentation by the closing date as late applications will not be considered.

1.3 Application dates

a) Main round

Applications for the main round of the 2011 Endeavour Awards open on Monday 5 April 2010 and will close at 11:59PM Australian Eastern Standard Time (AEST) on Sunday 31 July 2010.

b) Second round

Applications for the 2011 second round open on Wednesday 1 December 2010 and will close at 11.59PM Australian Eastern Daylight Savings Time (AEDST) on Monday 31 January 2011. Please note that a full suite of awards will not be offered in the second round. Further information will be available closer to the opening date.

Applications for Endeavour Awards will not be accepted outside these periods.

Applications for the 2011 main round close at 11:59PM Australian Eastern Standard Time (AEST) on Sunday 31 July 2010.

Applications received after this time will not be considered.

1.4 Selection Process

a) Preparing your Application

Applications should be submitted through Endeavour Online, the online system which allows applicants to enter their personal details and information on their proposed program, and to upload the required supporting documentation.

The online application form is only accessible between 5 April 2010 and 31 July 2010 (main round), and 1 December 2010 and 31 January 2011 (second round). Please refer to section 1.8 for additional information regarding accessing the online application system.

Applicants who do not have internet access may request a hard-copy application form by emailing endeavour.awards@deewr.gov.au indicating in their email the reasons why they are unable to apply online. Hardcopy applications must be received by the closing date. Late applications will not be considered.

Applications must satisfy the Eligibility Requirements in order to be considered by the Endeavour Awards selection panel.

Applicants should be aware that applications not received by the closing date will not be considered. Only applications that are submitted by the closing date will be assessed and applicants notified by email of the outcome of their applications.

You will need to address the selection criteria as fully as possible in your application. It is important that you read and answer all the questions in the application carefully. Please do not exceed the prescribed word limits.

There should be no repetition in your application. If you have already told us about your program proposal, there is no need to repeat this information when answering another, unrelated question.

Remember to use plain, clear English when addressing the questions in the application. Write as if you are writing for a general audience and do not use specialised, complex terms that are not easily understood.

Applicants wishing to be considered for more than one award category will need to lodge a separate application for each category. For example, if you wish to be considered for an Endeavour Research Fellowship and an Endeavour Australia Cheung Kong Research Fellowship, you will need to submit two separate applications.

1.5 Assessment of applications

All applications submitted online or received as a completed hardcopy application by the closing date will be checked by DEEWR to determine whether they meet the eligibility criteria. Applications that meet the eligibility criteria will be referred to an independent selection panel for consideration and ranked against the selection criteria (see below). DEEWR may short list applications against the selection criteria prior to assessment by the selection panel.

1.6 Selection panels

The Endeavour Awards selection panels will comprise at least three panel members, appointed by DEEWR. The panel members include eminent academics, professionals and government representatives.

Selection panel members are required to evaluate and rank applications online through the Endeavour Panel Assessment System against the selection criteria (see below). Individual rankings from all members of the panel are combined together automatically using the Endeavour Panel Assessment System to give an overall ranking list. Selection panel meetings are held at DEEWR's National Office to finalise the selection process. Panel members are required to make recommendations to DEEWR with the final decision on Award allocations being made by DEEWR.

1.7 Outcome of applications

Awards will be announced by the end of November 2010 (main round) and April 2011 (second round).

DEEWR will notify all applicants who submitted applications by email regarding the outcome of their applications. Unsuccessful applicants will be advised on how they can obtain feedback on their applications.

Successful applicants will be required to accept their Award Offers online within 14 days of the offer. Applicants will also be required to sign and return a 'Declaration of Acceptance' attached to their notification letter, prior to their Award being confirmed.

Additionally, all successful Australian applicants will be required to undergo a police check before their Award is confirmed.

On acceptance of the Award Offer, successful applicants will be provided with further information prior to commencing their Awards. Please refer to Post Selection at Section 1.9.

1.8 Online application system

The online application system, Endeavour Online, allows applicants to enter their personal details and information on their proposed program, and to upload the required supporting documentation directly onto the Endeavour Online system.

To apply online, applicants will need to go to the Endeavour Online system at: <https://endeavouradmin.deewr.gov.au/es/esapplication/Security/Login.aspx>. First-time users will need to register with the Endeavour Online system to create a user ID (the applicant's nominated email address and password). Once registered, applicants may create a new application or continue working on an existing application.

New applications will be allocated a unique application number. This application number should be referred to in any correspondence with DEEWR.

Applications do not have to be completed and submitted immediately. Applications may be saved at any time and may be amended until they are submitted by the closing date. Applications must be completed and submitted by 11:59PM AEST on 31 July 2010 for the main round and 11:59PM AEDST on 31 January 2011 for the second round in order to be considered for a 2011 Endeavour Award.

A Step by Step Guide to using the Endeavour Online Application System may be found at:

http://www.endeavour.deewr.gov.au/apply_now/apply_now.htm. Applicants may only view and submit their own applications.

Upon submission of an application, an email acknowledging receipt of the application will automatically be generated and forwarded to the email address (user ID) used to submit the application.

Applicants are advised to submit their application as early as possible due to a large volume of use on the system during the final week of applications.

To apply for an Endeavour Award, you will need to go to Endeavour Online at:
<https://endeavouradmin.deewr.gov.au/es/esapplication/Security/Login.aspx>.

First-time users will need to register with the Endeavour Online system to create a user ID (your nominated email address and password).

1.9 Post selection support services

A Contractor has been engaged by DEEWR to provide post-selection support services to all Award Holders. These services include:

- A dedicated case manager
- Pre-departure briefings
- Provision of advice on visas, health, travel, insurance, accommodation, security and legal matters
- Payment of allowances
- Reporting to DEEWR on Award Holders' progress

Once applicants have accepted their offer of an Award and returned a signed 'Declaration of Acceptance' their details will be transferred to the Contractor.

The Contractor will be in contact with all Award Holders within a month of receiving Award Holder details. The Contractor will firstly contact all Award Holders to confirm Award details including commencement dates and confirmed host organisation/institutions. Award Holders will then be allocated a dedicated case manager to assist them throughout the duration of their Awards.

1.10 Your Responsibility

Applicants are responsible for ensuring that they have read these Guidelines, the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) and all documents referred to in the Guidelines.

Applicants should ensure that their application meets the eligibility requirements detailed below. Applicants must also agree to the terms and conditions for each Award.

It is the applicants responsibility to ensure that supporting documentation, including referees' reports, are submitted by the due date. If supporting documentation is not received or attached to the application by the due date, the application will not be considered.

Applicants are responsible for all costs incurred in the preparation and lodgement of their applications.

1.11 Discrepancies, ambiguities, inconsistencies or errors in an application

The Australian Government will not accept responsibility for any misunderstanding arising from the failure by an applicant to comply with these Guidelines, or arising from any ambiguity, discrepancy or error contained in an application.

d) Definition of outstanding community service or civic participation (all Awards)

You will need to demonstrate outstanding community service or civic participation in any area that provides a benefit to your nation or your community such as arts and culture, environment, multiculturalism, healthcare, education, civic duty, business innovation, community volunteerism, sports and recreation and youth or seniors' or indigenous leadership. This involvement could include an ability to lead and motivate others as well as displaying a talent for new solutions, ideas and enterprises that show originality.

The selection panel will be looking for applicants who are more than 'mere bookworms'. Your intellectual talents need to be combined with care and concern for others. You need to demonstrate how you have used your skills to benefit your community or country. Evidence, in the form of your stories, is more valuable and interesting than mere adjectives.

How can you demonstrate that you have met this selection criterion?

Your evidence may include the following:

- Charity work such as working for Amnesty International;
- Volunteering, coaching or instructing, umpiring or refereeing;
- Honorary service to university organisations, such as the student union, sporting clubs or student representative council;
- Honorary service on school or university newspapers, clubs or activities;

- Publications and presentations (not academic) written in the course of doing work to benefit your community;
- Significant contributions towards reconciliation or closing the gap in Indigenous disadvantage.

Your non-academic or character referee may wish to confirm your outstanding community service or civic participation.

2.12 Fieldwork

For international applicants, fieldwork is an activity related to your field of study which is undertaken outside Australia (host country) within a participating country of the Endeavour Awards (see Section 2.5 of the Endeavour Awards 2011 Applicant Guidelines Page 18 of 42). For example, your fieldwork may be necessary because the object you want to research is located outside Australia. Fieldwork must not be undertaken in the Award Holder's Home Country.

If successful, international Award Holders who have proposed fieldwork outside Australia must not travel to a country or a part of a country that is assessed by DFAT as Level 5 without the express approval of DEEWR's Contractor. In the event of failure by an Award Holder to abide with this condition DEEWR reserves the right to terminate an Award and direct the Contractor to terminate the Award Contract. In the event that an Award Contract is terminated during the Term of the Award, an Award Holder must immediately cease undertaking their Program and return to their home country as soon as reasonably practicable.

For Australian applicants, fieldwork is an activity related to your field of study which is undertaken outside of your host country but within a participating country of the Endeavour Awards. Fieldwork must not be undertaken in Australia.

She can do fieldwork in Vietnam provided she has permission from her host and DEEWR's Contractor prior to commencement.

3. Applicants for the VET Awards must be 18 years of age or over at the commencement of their Awards.
4. Applicants must attach evidence of completion of their highest academic achievement. The minimum educational qualification is the equivalent of the Australian Year 10 certificate. Please note your application will not be considered if you do not provide proof of successful completion of either highest secondary schooling, vocational training or university study (see evidence of academic achievement at Section 3.3 below).

2.22 Endeavour Executive Awards

a) Award Description

The Endeavour Executive Awards provide professional development opportunities (1-4 months) for high achievers in business, industry, education or government from participating countries, including Australia.

The Awards focus on building skills and knowledge through a host work environment rather than through formal enrolment in a study program at a host institution and are not intended to fund direct academic research.

Professional development activities could include management training, peer-to-peer learning, mentoring, short courses and developing leadership skills.

The Endeavour Executive Awards aim to:

- enable high achieving professionals to further develop their skills and knowledge
- deepen professional engagements between Australia and participating countries
- strengthen mutual understanding between the people of Australia and Award Holders' host countries
- build linkages and networks between Australia and participating countries
- allow professionals the opportunity, on returning to their home country, to share their updated skills and knowledge with colleagues.

Selection criteria for the Endeavour Executive Awards are at Section 2.7 \(c\).

Research based proposals are generally more suited for the Endeavour Research Fellowship. Please decide carefully if the Endeavour Executive Award is the Award you should apply for as this Award is about developing or learning new skills in your field or area of expertise rather than furthering your existing research interests and outcomes. Applicants who are enrolled in a Masters or PhD but have not yet completed their study at the time of commencement of their Executive Award are ineligible to apply for an Endeavour Executive Award and may want to consider applying for an Endeavour Research Fellowship instead.

Applicants must be nominated by their host organisation. The professional development activity must be vocationally useful while not being geared toward an immediate commercial outcome as its purpose. Host organisations for international applicants cannot be an Australian branch of the applicant's home organisation.

Host organisations for Australian applicants cannot be an offshore branch of the applicant's home organisation. In addition, Australians cannot be hosted by any Australian organisation or institution, including Australian Government offices overseas.

Example

Amy works for an Australian university. Amy cannot apply for an Endeavour Executive Award to undertake her Award at an offshore campus of her university or at any Australian organisation offshore, including Australian Government offices overseas. In addition, Amy's proposal will not be considered if she plans to further her research project (as distinct from her research skills) in her host country. Her plan for an Executive Award should be to further her research skills by completing a short course or participating in a workshop or participating in crucial professional meetings. Applicants intending to develop pure research should not apply for an Executive Award but for a Research Fellowship.

It is the responsibility of the applicant to research and find an appropriate host organisation and develop their proposed professional development program. DEEWR manages the Endeavour Awards so cannot provide advice to applicants on locating suitable host organisations for the Endeavour Executive Awards.

A host organisation may nominate a maximum of 5 applicants only. Nomination forms are available by request or electronically within the online application.
